GEORGE SELLERS OF DORSETSHIRE, NEW YORK CITY AND WASHTENAW COUNTY, MICHIGAN

By Mary Lou Duncan of Grosse Pointe Shores, Michigan

George Sellers was born in England, probably Dorsetshire, about 1792, of unknown English parents. He died in Lyndon Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan, 30 March 1850 and was buried in Baseline Cemetery, Lyndon Township, where his tombstone gave his age as 58 years and stated that he "was a native of Dorsetshire." The date of his arrival in the United States has not been found. He was in New York City as early as 1823. This city and the year were given for one child's birth. The 1824-25 New York City Directory listed a George Sellers, rigger, living on Lombardy. From 1827 to 1829 a John Sellers was listed, as having run a boarding house at 277 Front Street. No George Sellers appeared. The identity of John is not known, but a close family relationship is presumed since in the 1829-30 and 1830-31 directories of New York City, a George Sellers is listed as having a boarding house at 278 Front Street. From 1831 through 1837 George Sellers kept a boarding house at various addresses on Water Street. After that date no listing appeared in George's name.

A serious fire occurred in New York City in 1835 which leveled a great number of houses on Front and Water Streets. Whether this influenced George to move is not known, but in July 1836 he bought land in Lyndon Township, the west half of the north-east quarter of Section 14, Township 1 South, Range 3 East, which consisted of 80 acres. The last child of George and his second wife was born in Michigan in October 1836, and it is thought that the family moved to Washtenaw County around that time. Although George voted in the November 1840 election in Lyndon Township, the family did not seem to appear in the 1840 census of Washtenaw County.

The first wife of George Sellers is said to have been born in England. Her name is given as Elizabeth on her son Edward's death certificate but no maiden surname is written. She must have died in New York City about 1831. It is certain that George Sellers, Jr., was the offspring of this first wife, and that Harriet was from a second marriage, since George, Jr., spoke of his "half-sister, Aunt Hat." Manhattan, New York City, New York records listed the death of a Mary Ann Sellers, of Water Street, 4 September 1831, age 33 years, buried from St. Patrick's, and also the death of a child, John Sellars, of Front Street 10 January 1828, age one month, twenty-one days. The addresses of these two persons corresponded with those listed for George Sellers at the time, so the two deceased are presumed to have had some relationship to him.

George Sellers married a second time, probably in New York City, about 1831 to Sarah (...) Carlowe, thought to have been a widow. She had a son, Thomas W. Carlowe, born in New York State in 1828 and mentioned in George Seller's will. Sarah was born in Ireland Circa 1802, of an English father and an Irish mother. She died in Lyndon Township, 8 April 1880.

Children of George and Elizabeth (...) Sellers :

i SOPHIA[2] SELLERS, b. data unknown; d. probably Washtenaw County, Mich., ca 1847. Not listed as heir in George Seller's will.

Dr. Denton submitted two bills to George Sellers' estate in 1850 as follows:

"1847 Oct. To visit your daughter Sopha seven miles in the country eight times in the day time including medicines, bleedings & do. once in the night. $24.00 & $6.00.
Nov. 27. To visit for do. and attendence all night in case of poisoning. $10.00. (Total) $40.00."
The executors contended that Sophia had "been of age 5 or 6 years and during that time had not lived or depended upon her father." Claim disallowed by court.

The 1870 census of Lyndon Twp. listed both, also a George, age 15. In 1900 Elizabeth, a widow, is recorded as living with a daughter-in-law, Elizabeth, also a widow, in Detroit, Wayne Co., Mich.

19 March 1906 age 74 years, 8 months and 15 days.

According to his obituary, Edward had been engaged in railroad work for 35 years before his death. He ran the first sleeper on the M.C.R.R. and was the first passenger conductor on the J.L.& S., a position which he retained. It further states that "fourteen years ago he was badly injured in an accident that occurred just below this city, but after being extricated from his perilous position, he did not stop to attend his own injuries but at once looked after the welfare of his passengers." (Michigan Pioneer and Historical Collections, Vol. 11, p. 641.) Edward lived in Detroit from 1862 to 1867, later moving to Jackson where he served as Alderman of the First Ward. His estate was probated in Jackson County, naming only his wife and four daughters as heirs. Perhaps his son was deceased by that time.

SOME TEACHERS OF LYNDON CENTER SCHOOL, LYNDON TOWNSHIP, WASHTENAW COUNTY, MICHIGAN

Contributed by Nancy H. Krohn

Lyndon Center School, District #11, stood near the intersection of M 52 and North Territorial Road in Section 21 of Lyndon Township. A history of the school, prepared by the teacher, [Mrs.] Ethel Cain, and her students, Bob Shanahan and Melvin Stofer, reveals many of the early traditions remembered by former students. The list of teachers from 1869 to 1941, was taken from the treasurer's book (James Howlett, treasurer, 1917-1941). The school is no longer standing. This history is found in the Michigan Historical Collections, Bentley Historical Library, The University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

FROM OUR READERS

Lyman Clark, Livingston County, Michigan

Lyman Clark, a 33 year old carpenter and joiner, came with his wife Lydia and family from Oneida County, New York, in 1836. He obtained 120 acres of government land in Lyndon Township just south of Unadilla. He built a log cabin, moved into it on October 1st with only a bed quilt for a door, boards for windows, and native soil for the floor until January. A Dutch oven was used for cooking. From Lyman's obituary we read "no church, no school house, naught save the noble forest and heaven's blue canopy...the thud of the woodman's axe, music to the civilized ear but devastation to the red man's hunting ground, soon changed things...civilization and Christianity (co-workers) laid the foundation of our society." He sold the farm in 1846 and moved to Livingston County, where members of the Clark family still live on the Centennial Farm in Marion Township.

Union Cemetery, Saline Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan

The new book by GSWC, Cemetery Inscriptions of Saline Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan, listed "Father" and "Mother" on page 37 in the Aulls lot. "Father" was Hiram Aulls who died 1 September 1851 (Washtenaw Co. Probate Rec.). In Bryan Leslie Aulls' The Aulls Genealogy [Baltimore, 1947], the date of his birth was given as 12 September 1807. Julia Ann (Wilcox) Aulls, "Mother", probably died in the 1860s. She was mentioned in records of the Presbyterian Church, Ann Arbor, in the 1860s and was also listed, residing in Ann Arbor, in the 1860 census. William Campbell's diary has the following entry for their daughter, Harriet Eliza Aulls on Wednesday, November 22, 1893: "Went to Eliza Aull's funeral at Mr. Coryell's. Mr. Hotchkin and Frank were there, also Eva and Joseph Aulls and Mr. Ruckman's folks. Rev. Mr. Cheney officiated. They took the remains to Lodi for burial." Union Cemetery is not far from the Lodi Township line.

Ellen, wife of Jacob Read, was buried in lot 90 (p. 43, Cemetery Inscriptions) with her parents Simeon and Lois Seekell. She was married 4 July 1866 in Saline, age 17. Her husband, Jacob Read, died 9 November 1920 (obituary), at his home on Rushton Road, Green Oak Township, Livingston County, and was buried with his second wife, Ruby Toncray, and several of their children in South Lyon Cemetery, South Lyon, Michigan.

Malinda (Hoyt) Wheeler (p. 44, Cemetery Inscriptions), who died 21 January 1856, was the wife of Belina Wheeler. He later moved to Missouri where he died 24 April 1887 and was buried in Deepwood Cemetery at Nevada, Vernon County, Missouri (Albert Gallatin Wheeler, Jr., The Genealogical and Encyclopedic History of the Wheeler Families in America [American College of Genealogy, 1914]). Jane Wheeler (p. 43, Cemetery Inscriptions) was the widow of Belina Wheeler's father, Jonas Wheeler, who died in Steuben County, New York, probably in 1825. His will was proved 23 September 1831 in Steuben County (Surrogate Record, Steuben Co., New York).
